

Narcotics Abuse Linked To Marijuana

By JOHN WIRGES
Sentinel Staff Reporter
(Part Two)

(Ed. Note: Evidently some people have taken this series on the drug marijuana as an endorsement of the weed and of those who waste themselves on it. This series is a report on data and attitudes about marijuana, and is not presented as literature in support of the illegal drug. Those who wish supportive propaganda for the use of marijuana will have to continue to fool themselves.)

Some teenagers and adults say there is no harm in smoking marijuana. They claim marijuana is less harmful than drinking alcohol.

One man, a junior college teacher, said he didn't think moderate smoking of marijuana would prove to be harmful to a normal person.

"There's no proof, either way, that marijuana is harmful," he said, asking to remain anonymous.

This teacher, like so many other uninformed people, has neither the facts nor training to qualify as an expert on what has proved to be a severe problem. His stature as a teacher, unfortunately gives him a platform that lends credibility to his opinion.

Very little is known about marijuana in this country. The marijuana problem has only been recognized as a potential danger in the U. S. since the mid 1930's, according to a report filed with Congress in 1935.

Marijuana, however, has been a problem in the world since four centuries before the birth of Christ.

Studies now underway may correlate the total of the world's knowledge concerning the cannabis plant (marijuana) and its close relation, the stronger Turkish product, Hashish.

Dr. Oliver E. Byrd, PhD, MD of Stanford University, hopes to publish his findings within the next six months. A discussion of Dr. Byrd's research will be covered later in this series.

A more complete understanding of marijuana might best be understood by discussing what it is not. A survey of the broad narcotics problem offers this view.

"Hard narcotics are not a big problem with us," said Police Captain Lloyd DeVore of San Diego's Juvenile Division. "The use of heroin has diminished to a point that indicates it's not being tried anymore. Addicts still use it but apparently the kids are not going to it."

Drug abuse is on the increase according to a recent report of the Food and Drug Administration. Stimulants, amphetamine and barbiturates and depressants, phenobarbital and sebarbital, are being used by teenagers, indiscriminately, for "kicks."

Juvenile Probation Department reports indicate "pill popping" from the family medicine cabinet is a common first step on the road to narcotics usage.

The report also indicates a sharp rise in the hallucinogens, and added this warning, "LSD (STP and others) can cause serious and permanent mental changes, nervous breakdowns, and lead to violence and self-destruction."

There is some evidence the teenager recognizes the danger of using the "freak out" drug, LSD.

"I'm glad 'dropping acid' (using LSD) is a felony," said one 19-year-old Mesa College student. "I've had several friends who got wrecked by using acid. Most of the kids are done with it, even though it's easy to get. I think acid dropping is dropping," she said.

The student in the above interview preferred to remain anonymous. All requests for such shielding made by individuals contacted during the course of this investigation have been honored.

Instances where names of former users are mentioned have been approved by the parties concerned.

One view on narcotics use comes from Michael M. Donleavy, 19, of Ocean Beach. Donleavy is a history major at Mesa College; he has a 3.5 grade average.

Donleavy admits to being a former user of both marijuana and LSD. "They are both less harmful than alcohol," he said. "Marijuana is not harmful at all, unless taken to excess. The real harm comes from the law and social attitudes."

Donleavy said every one of his age and philosophy view the narcotics law as foolish and overly harsh. "The law on narcotics is not realistic," he said.

Donleavy said that taking LSD provides sophisticated experience, helpful in serious thinking, contemplation and several other endeavors.

Donleavy is an admitted outcast, calls himself a "loner," claims to enjoy solitude, says he is an atheist, calls Christian monogamy "asinine" and claims his ambition includes no pecuniary goals.

Oddball or not, loner or not, Donleavy really believes. Please Turn to Next Page

Nature Easily Removed

Ugly Concrete May Soon Replace Park's Beauty

Bulldozers are due to bite into one of the most potentially beautiful spots on the Peninsula, unless local citizen response is organized soon, according to residents.

The quiet green of tree-lined Collier Park West, now city-owned former park land, is indicated on the Peninsula Community Plan as medium density apartment buildings, says Peninsulans Inc. member Page Cummins.

Tentative city plans indicate selling Collier Park land to developers, in the meantime transferring the proposed park to the present Warren Housing tract site near the juncture of Voltaire St. and Chatsworth Blvd.

Mrs. Cummins, who is trying to enlist the support of community organizations such as the Ocean Beach Town Council to preserve the park from the bulldozers, fears that unless action is taken before the city finalizes its plans, the community may lose a valuable and beautiful neighborhood park.

The land (actually not a dedicated park) is blessed with an abundance of natural advantages. Huge, irreplaceable eucalyptus, some two feet in diameter, provide natural shade and a cool refuge on the sheltered green.

The park, situated on a gentle slope of land, commands a beautiful view of the surrounding area. Collier West shares none of the drainage problems of Collier East, located on the other side of Nimitz Blvd, next to Collier Junior High School.

Easy access from West Point Loma Blvd. along Castelar St., and from Voltaire along Sato streets, make the park available to anyone in the northern Peninsula.

Even in their natural state, the green lawn and the graceful trees attract many visitors at noontime. Working men come to the park every day to eat lunch, according to Mrs. Cummins.

Little investment or maintenance would be required to landscape the area, said Mrs. Cummins and Ned Titlow, president of Ocean Beach Town Council, whose support Mrs. Cummins is enlisting.

Only turf and a little re-seeding would be necessary. A sprinkler system, left over from the days when the land was the nursery for Mission Bay Park in the 1950's has already been laid and would be perfectly adequate as a watering system.

The land which was acquired in 1909, has a long and colorful history. Before World War II (and before the city acquired four-wheel drive vehicles) the city stables were kept on the land. Horses were used to haul the wagons which cleaned the beaches.

After the land became a nursery, the 60 acres were voted out of the park system in 1956 by the voters. The major portion was purchased by the San Diego Unified School District and Collier Junior High School was developed.

The 22.5 acres of city-owned land is divided into two portions, seven acres on the west side of Nimitz Blvd. and 15.5 acres on the eastern side. The eastern slope, which is currently being used by the Loma Portal Little League, will probably be sold by the city at some future date, along with the western section unless community action is taken, according to Mrs. Cummins and Titlow.

If developed, Collier Park would provide the only grassy neighborhood park in the northern section of the Peninsula, according to the Peninsula Community Plan. Robb Field, soon to be developed, is primarily a ball-playing area. Warren housing would probably be given a recreation center, according to studies undertaken by the city engineers and planning department.

The recreation center, if of standard design, would be composed of a 10,000 square foot building, plus paved playing courts and a small lawn.

Only Large Park Ocean Beach Park, the only large park in the area, is a beach open to the public.

Saving Collier Park as a neighborhood park (indicated as an area serving 3,500 to 5,000 people in the Peninsula Community Plan) is going to be a tough job, according to Mrs. Cummins. Her first step will be to take her proposals to the Ocean Beach Town Council, the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, and Peninsulans Inc.

If she can arouse enough local support, she can take her request to the Central Area committee of the Park and Recreation Board, following the proper channels to get the proposal aired before the board itself.

She expects a certain amount of opposition from the city, which has rules about the number of parks in a given area, but since plans are flexible at this stage, she holds hopes of being able to reason effectively with the city.

A major factor in Collier Park's favor, according to Mrs. Cummins, is that the city already owns the land. To transform the Warren Housing into park land, the city must first purchase the land from the Federal government, thereby skyrocketing total costs.

With the knowledge that the community is behind her, said Mrs. Cummins, she and the community stand a good chance of preserving one of the natural beauty spots of the Peninsula.

Call Up Could Cause Pinch In Housing

President Johnson's call up of 14,000 plus air reserves could foster a full measure of mobilization problems to Clairemont and other northern San Diego communities.

At least one of the activated units has been ordered to Miramar Naval Air Station, a Navy spokesman said. Reserve Fighter Squadron 703, an F-8 Crusader outfit from Dallas, Texas, has been assigned to Miramar. The squadron will fly to the San Diego air station after a brief refresher training period at NAS Hensley Field in Dallas.

Miramar's Commanding Officer Capt. Armistead B. Smith, Jr., said the station is prepared for whatever is required.

"We have considerable expansion capabilities," said Smith.

Miramar is publicized as the "Home of the Pacific Fleet Fighters," presently hosting 23 fighter squadrons, five air wings and a maintenance training unit totaling 4,000 officers and man some 350 aircraft.

"Miramar Naval Air Station is prepared and ready to accept any task requested of it," said Capt. Smith. "We have every confidence of overcoming any and all difficulties that might present themselves."

Asked if the civilian community would feel any part of the mobilization problem,

Smith said, "There's a shortage of low rent housing now. If we're forced to expand by any considerable number, the problem could become acute."

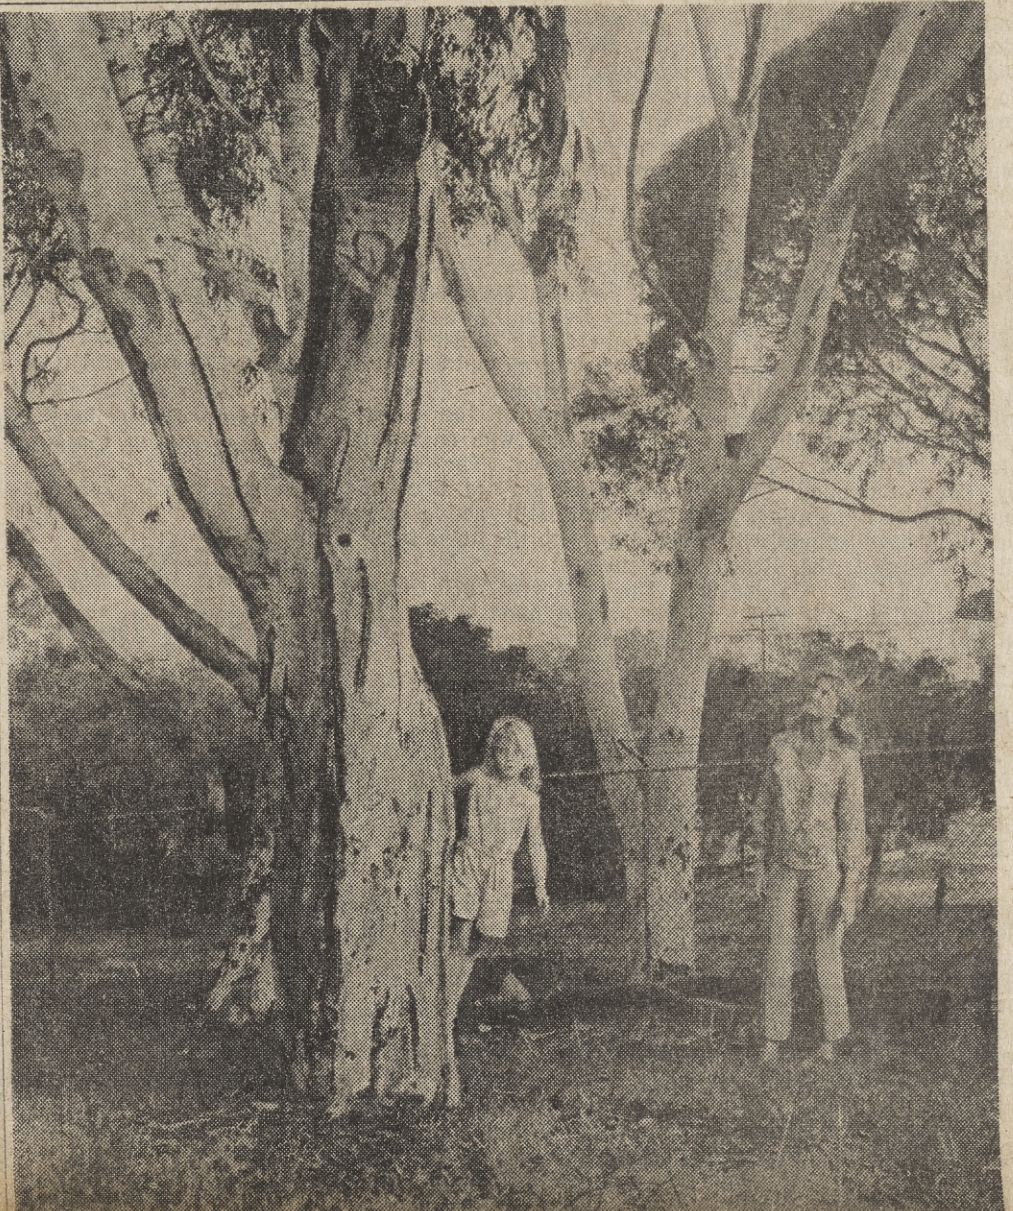

Reservists called up could be held on active duty for at least 24 months. A formal declaration of war would extend their service for the duration of hostilities plus six months, as was the case during World War II.

Week's Service Scheduled At Baptist Church

Rev. Hugh W. Power, pastor of First Baptist Church of Ocean Beach, 1969 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., will speak on "Every Word an Oath," Matthew 5:33-37, as his sermon topic today at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. morning worship services.

Pastor Power will speak at the 7:30 p.m. Evangelistic service on "God Blesses the Ordinary," Hebrews 13:20-21.

An Hour of Power prayer meeting, study in the book of Hebrews, Chap. 9:15-22, will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Members of senior high school youth will attend Snow Camp at Mt. Palomar tomorrow through Sunday.

COLLIER BEAUTY—A sample of the shaded beauty that makes Collier Park land such an attractive prize to Mrs. Page Cummins and her daughter Jeanette is seen in the huge Eucalyptus trees which forest the area. Mrs. Cummins is working to save the potential park land—and the trees—from the developers' bulldozers.

Department Honors City Aquatic Director

Don Vynne, for 22 years the director of San Diego's aquatics program, will be honored at an open civic luncheon Monday, Feb. 12 at noon, Bali Hai Restaurant, preceding his official retirement later in the month.

Vynne is a resident of the De Anza Trailer Park in Mission Bay. The Recreation Department will sponsor the luncheon.

Those connected with water sports and aquatic events and members of the Southwest Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union which Vynne has served for over 20 years as secretary-treasurer are expected to join City Recreation Department officials to provide a large turnout at the occasion.

Vynne was born in Chicago, Ill., later attending Central YMCA Preparatory Schools and graduating from De Paul University with a major in physical education in 1926. He began employment with the city of Chicago as a lifeguard in 1921, advanced to lifeguard captain in 1924 and to beach and pool director in 1926.

National Red Cross In World War II he served with the American National Red Cross in Europe, eventually becoming assistant director of Field Service for Europe in 1944-45. While visiting San Diego in 1946, he decided to take a civil service test for director of aquatics. He finished at the top and obtained the position. In 1948 he served as president of the AAU here, then settled down as its perennial secretary-treasurer.

In his capacity as aquatics director, Vynne has presided over organization of his division and of the lifeguard service and has been influential in much of the fabulous development of Mission Bay Park. Such activities as sailing, instruction, swimming lessons at both municipal pools in Mission Bay, Junior Frogmen (skin diving), SCU-BA instruction, synchronized swimming, competitive swimming, life saving and junior lifeguards, the Fiesta Bahia, power boat races and crew races have been instigated during his tenure of office.

Instrumental Vynne has attended national meetings of the AAU over the years and has been instrumental in bringing to San Diego such attractions as national AAU championships in swimming, boxing, track and field.

Another single honor to Vynne prior to his retirement will be serving as honorary meet director of the San Diego Sports Enterprises' Invitational Indoor Track Meet in the San Diego International Sports Arena on Feb. 3. A page in the program will be dedicated to Vynne. Vynne and his wife, Gertrude, a former recreation director of the Recreation Department, will leave shortly after his retirement on an extended group trailer trip through Mexico.

Tickets for Vynne's dinner may be obtained at Stanley Andrews Sporting Goods stores, the Aquatics Headquarters in Mission Bay Park or at the city Recreation Department officials to provide a large turnout at the occasion.

O. W. (junior) Todd, prominent civic leader and member of the AAU board of governors, will serve as master of ceremonies.

LOVELY LOMAN QUEEN—Jeanne Riddell, of 3409 1/2 Ocean Front Walk, will reign over the annual Point Loma Optimist Club's annual dinner next month under the title of "Miss Golden Grand," also the title of the banquet. The dinner is the club's major fund-raising event of the year.

SECOND SESSION SET

Peninsulans Plan Meets With Favor

The projected future of the Peninsula seemed to go over big with 400 residents who packed Dana Junior High School Auditorium Wednesday night.

A painlessly fast-moving presentation by Peninsulans Inc., the community planning organization, Wednesday was termed quite a success by planners and audience alike.

Community-conscious organizations on both sides of the Peninsula were especially receptive to the presentation and the plan's tentative outlines.

Point Loma Village Beautiful Public Relations Director Bob Foster noted that his immediate impression was the favorable. "The intent of the two organizations dovetails very nicely," said Foster.

"Both groups have the same interests, and I am sure that each will find the other most useful in preserving the beauty and integrity of the area."

Ocean Beach Town Council president Ned Titlow expected the meeting to spark community discussion. "Overall, thought the plan was well thought-out and the presentation was well done," he said. "Though the overall concept is fine, I still expect to object to a couple of small items, such as the phasing out of Collier Park, for instance."

"I would also want to look into the change from commercial to motel designation on the 1500 blocks of Niagara and Santa Monica Aves. and Newport Blvd."

"We will open a discussion of the plan at the next town council board meeting Feb. 1, and at either the February or March general meeting."

The Wednesday meeting was held to acquaint the community with the plan and the planning process. Any questions will be answered and the plan will be discussed March 6, 7:30 p.m., in Dana auditorium.

Planning group members gave a brief outline of the residential, commercial, park and recreation, and schools and public facilities sections of the plan.

A description of the next step after acceptance — implementation — was given by Joe Richardson.

According to Richardson, even after the City Council adopts the plan, it must be re-appraised and revised regularly. "The major responsibility for the implementation will rest with the citizens," he said.

"As I see it, three groups will be needed. First, we need local groups to start 'paint-up, fix-up' movements, including self-policing litter control."

"The second group should be joint community-city, for projects like tree planting and landscaping, or special economic surveys."

"A third group would be the city with the aid of citizen groups to conduct school and park expansion, libraries and other facilities, and traffic expansion."

"New ordinances may be required, conducted by due process of law and initiated by citizen groups," said Richardson, "but in the end it is private citizens that have a vital role in implementing the plan."

Exhibits To Feature 50th Anniversary

Forty days of special exhibits will mark the Golden Anniversary of the La Jolla Art Association starting Feb. 1 according to association spokesmen.

The local association began 50 years ago in the home of Miss Ellen Browning Scripps. Members met there to paint, converse and have tea in her lath house and begonia garden.

This was in 1918. When the present La Jolla Library building was in the blueprint stage, Miss Scripps was prevailed upon by her friends to purchase the land for the present gallery. The gallery room was included in the building by William Templeton Johnson, architect.

These early years marked many types of exhibits including seashells, pressed wildflowers and other natural subjects. The gallery also held displays by guest artists of prominence. There was the first Southern California exhibit by the noted Russian painter, Nicolai Fechin, a display of "Flowering Pansies" by Colin Campbell Cooper and undersea paintings by the Williams Brothers. Other shows included Alan Brook's watercolors of California birds and the collection of wildflower paintings by A. R. Valentien commissioned by

Of the charter members Alfred Mitchell and Miss Leda Klauer still remain, the former still active in the painting world. Thomas Scripps, son of Mrs. F. T. Scripps and a patron of the association well remembers those days and is loaning a painting by his mother for the first exhibit.

A reception from 2 to 4:30 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 4 will highlight the series of art events. Painters of the early days of La Jolla will be represented in about 36 works including sculptures by Donal Hord and James Tank Porter. Names like Maurice Braun, Leon Bonnet, Otto Schneider, Hazel Shoven, Nicolai Fechin, Anni Baldaugh, Charles Reiffel, Charles Fries and others well known in the art circles of 40 and 50 years ago are included.

A painting of the desert in 1926 which won an award will be shown. The artist, Ivan Messinger, is one of those few still active and painting with the times in art movements.

The gallery at 7915 Girard Ave. will be open to the public every day from 1 to 5 p.m. including Sunday.

Girls; Punch Like This And Avoid Trouble

A would-be assailant was punched in the stomach by his intended female victim Tuesday and fell down a flight of stairs according to police reports.

Narcotics Abuse Linked

lieves what he says. He's an articulate, intelligent person. And as such, he influences a considerable number of his peers.

Another case in point: Sheelagh Lynn Royle, 20, Music and Drama major at Mesa College where she maintains a "B" average. Miss Royle is a native of Pacific Beach and graduated from Mission Bay High School.

Miss Royle served three months in a California State prison for women under observation on condition of probation after receiving a two to five year prison sentence on a felony conviction as a narcotics user.

It would appear she speaks with some authority when she says most LSD users start on marijuana.

"Most of the people who look like hippies are probably users," she said. "But don't let the looks fool you. You'd be surprised how many 'nice' kids smoke pot."

Miss Royle feels that most LSD users, glue sniffers and pill poppers are going back to or taking up marijuana.

"Everybody knows that other stuff can kill you," she said.

"The law is pretty harsh. I could lose five years of my life just for being in a room with someone smoking a 'weed'."

Miss Royle could also be prevented from receiving a teaching certificate, from voting, or holding property.

Before the idea that Mesa College is a hot-heads hotbed the following conversation should be noted.

A state narcotics officer was asked his views on marijuana usage at Mesa.

"Mesa Junior College is a nice little middle class school in a nice middle class neighborhood."

"They don't have problems with the very rich or the very poor. I'd say Mesa's experience with marijuana is below the average, probably quite a bit below."

The officer also preferred to remain anonymous.

Mesa's president, Robert F. Heilbron is aware of the great increase in the use of marijuana and the danger it represents to his campus.

"We have an informal task group here at Mesa, comprising both teachers and administrators whose mission it is to stay conversant with the narcotics picture as it relates to Mesa students," said Heilbron.

"In addition, campus employees are charged to report any suspicious looking off-campus visitor, and of course we maintain a close working relationship with the San Diego Police Department."

Heilbron said he feels the use of marijuana is a protest by the young adult against established authority. He said he felt the young adult relates smoking marijuana to his independence.

Radioman

Radioman Seaman Thomas H. Mayo Jr., USNR, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Mayo of 2665 Poinsettia Dr. is serving aboard the U. S. Seventh Fleet destroyer USS Strong in the Western Pacific.

After leaving his homeport at Charleston, S. C., the Strong conducted a training exercise while en route to the Panama Canal. After transiting the canal it headed for the Western Pacific via a port call in San Diego and is on her fourth deployment to the Pacific since its commissioning in 1945.

Write Better, More Easily With Course

There you are, sitting at your typewriter, and nothing happens. Frustrating, right? You can learn how to get started and succeed.

North Shores Adult School presents a free class in journalism starting Jan. 31, 6:30 p.m., in Room 233 at Mission Bay High School.

Each Wednesday during the semester the interrelated "tools" of journalism will be defined and practiced so that students will be able to start and complete works of writing from short notes and news items to complex manuscripts.

Robert Harvey is the instructor. Students may call the adult school to register (273-3221) or sign up at the first class meeting.

Ski Lessons Given Gratis At Local YMCA

The Northwest YMCA is sponsoring free snow ski lessons for family groups and young people at the La Jolla Community Center on two consecutive Wednesday evenings, February 7 and 14, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Participating ski clubs, Convoir Y Don Diego Ski Club and Stanley Andrews Sporting Goods —ski instructor, Joe Harris. The ski school will cover the selecting of proper ski equipment, basic ski techniques and safety, pre-season conditioning exercises. Ski equipment is provided for those who do not already have their own.

A snow ski trip to snow summit in the Big Bear Mountains will be scheduled for a weekend in February at cost.

Everyone is invited. Bring your friends. For further information call the Northwest YMCA 453-3483.

Mini-Center Can Be Put Beside Balboa

A unanimous decision from the city Planning Commission has paved the way for a small shopping center development on the south side of Balboa Avenue.

Planning Commissioners Wednesday approved the rezoning of 15-acres of land between Ruffner Road and Olga Avenue. The commission continued for four weeks a request by the developer to close portions of Olga Avenue.

The property, now vacant, was recommended for commercial zoning in the Kearny Mesa West Plan. The city Planning Department said it favored the rezoning, but asked that the street closing be denied. The department recommended denial of the closing because the state may need the street for freeway right-of-way.

There was no opposition to the rezoning.

Recreation Schedule Told At Longfellow

Longfellow PTA and the San Diego Recreation Department announce the Winter recreation schedule to be offered by Miss Margaret Davis, recreation leader.

Intramural teams of girls will compete in kickball. Intramural competition for boys will be in soccer.

City-wide competition is already in progress in hopscotch with each school conducting its own contest for a winner to send on to the finals.

Miss Davis also offers various interesting crafts on Saturday mornings between 10 a.m. and noon.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

By DOCTOR JOHN J. FLYNN
Doctor of Chiropractic

Q—My husband drives a cab nights and sleeps days. He constantly complains of lower back pain. He blames it on the job and won't see a doctor. How can I convince him?

A—More than a half million people will suffer or become disabled this year from spinal defects that cause chronic and acute lower back and leg pain. Chiropractic research studies show that, in many cases, the pain is caused by a spinal misalignment in the lower lumbar region of the spinal column. Abnormal pressure or a pinching off of the vital nerves that pass through the vertebrae at this point will reduce the normal supply of nerve energy to the nerve branch network of the back and legs, causing the pain.

More than likely your husband's problem is also aggravated by chronic posture decay caused by his slouching behind the wheel. This places his full torso weight on the impinged nerve area. If a spinal disorder is causing his suffering, then he can be helped through corrective Chiropractic adjustment.

FREE X-RAY
Q—I understand that you offer free initial x-ray and examination. What do I have to do to take advantage of this offer?

A—Simply call the office and arrange a convenient appointment with my secretary.

CONSTANT COMPLAINING

Q—My sister's 16-year-old daughter is a constant complainer. She claims all kinds of headaches and pains just to get out of work around the house. It's a shame the way she uses my sister. Can your spinal x-ray tell if there's anything really wrong?

A—Seven out of ten children between the ages of 6 and 16 show definite spinal distortions. Years ago little attention was given to spinal curvature that caused a slight head tilt or a pelvic tilt. These were taken as heredity or unfortunate accidents of nature. Today, Chiropractic studies have proven that these spinal defects or vertebral misalignments can cause a host of troubles from serious headaches to loss of body function in cases where vital nerve energy transmission has been completely cut off. Regular Chiropractic check-ups should be included with periodic medical and dental examinations. Each plays an important role in safeguarding your family's health.

Doctor Flynn welcomes your letters on health problems. Mail your questions to his office at 6943 Linda Vista Road or telephone for an appointment to discuss your problem directly with him. Free initial X-ray, examination and analysis. Telephone 278-2902.

'We Can Catch 'Em,' Say Pointers After Madison Sweeps First Half

By LARRY LITTLEFIELD

Point Loma High Coach Don Buechler may be bidding for the "Optimist of the Year" award, but he feels his second place Pointers can catch Madison.

"We can do it," he said, "but we're going to have to do it ourselves and we're going to have some help."

Madison completed a first half sweep Friday night and the Pointers won over Clairemont to stay two games back. Buechler and the Pointers feel they must turn to University, the newcomers, for the help they need.

"Madison will have to go over to University in the second half," Buechler reminded. "And in their gym, when the Dons start shooting well, there's no stopping them. They've got a good ball club."

Of course the Pointers, who went into overtime with both Madison and University, must visit the Dons, too, as well as Madison and Clairemont.

"I feel we gave Madison its best game of the first half," Buechler said and no one can argue. "But we also have the toughest second half schedule. We'll just have to take them one at a time."

Only one game is slated Tuesday, a non-leaguer between Mission Bay and El Centro and the second half will open Friday with Madison at Mission Bay, La Jolla at Point Loma and University at Kearny.

There was a time Point Loma might have asked Clairemont for a little help against Madison, but not after what the Chieftains displayed Friday night in a 65-45 loss to the Pointers.

The first half was a horrible combination of Point Loma's bad passing and Clairemont's poor ball handling and only the Lomans snapped out of it for the second half.

In what was to be a fine scoring duel between the number two and three scorers in the league, Frank Peterson of Clairemont and Charlie Garten of Point Loma, turned out to be the flop of the night.

Peterson, in foul trouble early, managed only four points and Garten, who played well, was over-shadowed by teammate Morgan Miller who scored 20.

Garten hit 18 before he fouled out late in the game and machine-gunning Justin Lanne tallied 19 for Clairemont.

The game was close until Miller led a sudden Pointer surge at the end of the second period that gave the hosts a 30-24 lead. Clairemont never came close after that.

Meanwhile, Kearny moved into a three-way third place tie with a 75-71 victory over Mission Bay in the highest scoring league game of the season, and Madison made it 6-0 with an easy 60-41 win over La Jolla.

Actually, the Hawks and Vikings were nip and tuck until the third quarter when Madison outscored them 16-4. Ron Dahms led the winners with 18 points.

Three Komets scored that same total against Mission Bay's weak defense. Lee Tyler, Wilburn Strong and Mitchell Taylor each bucketed 18, but game honors went to Steve Arter with 22 points.

Taylor's effort was eight more points than his league total and Mission Bay's Casey Hamlin, also scoring 18, had tallied only 14 in five previous league games.

Top San Diegans On Boxing Card

Rising young featherweight Roy DeFilippis and veteran heavyweight Ski Goldstein, both of San Diego, will be featured in two 10-round bouts Tuesday at the Community Concourse on the fifth fight card staged by Pro-Box Inc.

DeFilippis, who has taken on the nickname "Little Paisan" to indicate his Italian background, will meet Marcello Cid of Mexico City. Another boxer with a Navy background, DeFilippis has won all of his six pro fights and as an amateur had a record of 127 wins in 136 fights and was the 1967 National A.A.U. featherweight champion.

Goldstein started his fistic career here in the Marine Corps and was the most valuable fighter in the 1962 Evening Tribune Golden Gloves tournament. As a pro he has won 14 and lost 5 and has seen much of the world including bouts in England and Italy. Goldstein will face a big man next Tuesday meeting Lee "Rebel" White of Oakland, a 6 foot 4 inch 220 pounder. Ski has quite a local following and can boast of never losing a fight in San Diego.

Surf Scene

By DOUG SMITH

City Surfing Coordinator

Surfers throughout the world are mourning the death of Duke Kahanamoku, one of the most beloved names in the sport of surfing. He will be sadly missed by all who have admired his contributions to the sports world.

UPCOMING CONTESTS — Cal Western and UCSD meet today at Ocean Beach for the preliminary Southern League contest to determine which college will represent the Southern District in a triangular duel with the Central District (UCLA) and the Northern District (most likely Santa Barbara).

A combined open and single A surfing contest has been set for Feb. 17 and 18 at Pleasure Point, Santa Cruz.

RECENT MEETS — An intraclub contest held by the new White Sands Surf Club at Ocean Beach last Sunday was successful. Three judges from the Las Olas Surf Club were quiet impressed with the performance of most of the White Sands members.

SURFING ISSUES — Once again the University of California at San Diego wishes to make it clear to all surfers that action will be taken against those who refuse to stay clear of the water just north of Scripps Pier. A guard will soon be hired to watch the area, closed to all surfers because a few destroyed some experimental equipment near the pier.

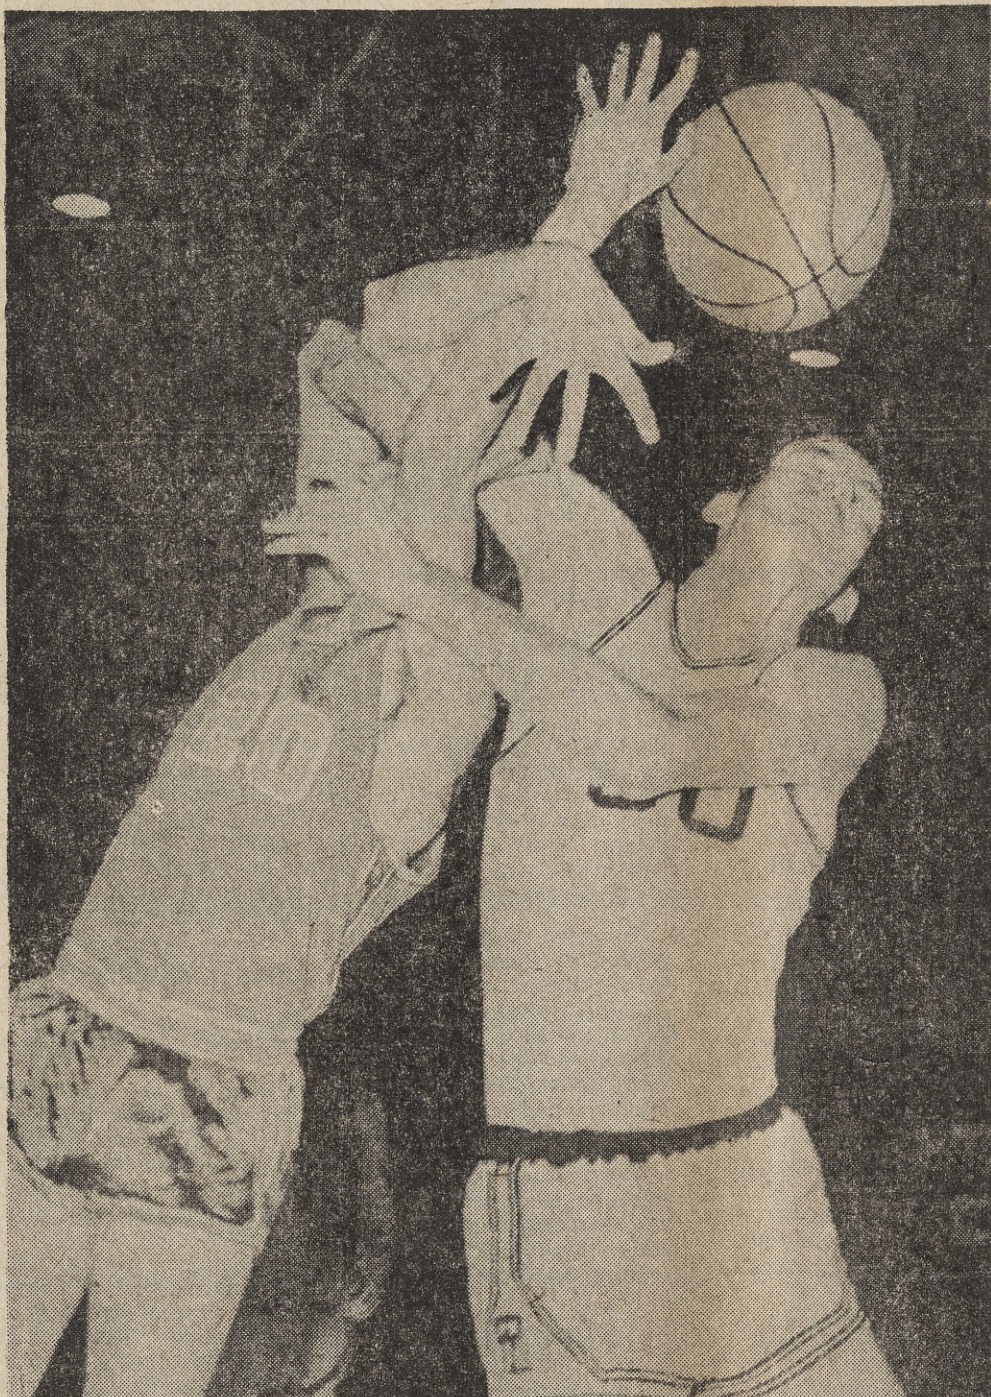

SURFING CONDITIONS — Today's high of 7.2 will come at 7:45 a.m. with a low of -1.8 coming at 3:06 p.m. Water temperature remains at 56 degrees. For a Northern San Diego County surf report call 753-6221 (24 hours).

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK, Dr. Roger Ryan — It was 1950 when Dr. Ryan, a dentist began surfing and he feels now as he did then — his major physical diversion is surfing. He feels that it is always a challenge, always thrilling and plans to surf until he's 140 years old.

Dr. Ryan expresses surfing as a clean, healthy sport but feels that there are some who use surfing as a method of expressing their rebellion.

He owns a third interest in TAK Importing Company on Pacific Highway which brings in a sleek, moderately priced surfboard from Japan.

Dr. Ryan's favorite surfing spots are Windansea and Pacific Beach Point.

A ROCKY ROAD—This business of grabbing rebounds is a serious one and Clairemont High's Rocky Koch (20) is indeed all wrapped up in his work, as well as the efforts of Point Loma's Charlie Garten in the second quarter. Koch was fouled on the play (really?) but the Chieftains were no match for the Pointers who took over second place as the first half ended. Point Loma won, 65-45, and is afforded the slim chance of catching first place Madison. Sentinel photo by Larry Littlefield.

Kemp To Oppose Smith In Indoor Games Here

Jim Kemp, who stunned the supposedly unbeatable Tommie Smith in last weekend's Los Angeles Invitational, has signed a blank to oppose Tommie-Jet in the second annual San Diego Indoor Games.

The big pre-Olympic test will be held next Saturday night on the brand new banked boards at the San Diego Sports Arena.

Kemp's victory shouldn't have come as that much of a shocker. Jim won the National AAU Indoor 600-yard title last winter and he is a former NCAA 440 champion.

However, it was the first time Tommie has lost a 440 indoors and one of the few times he has lost anything for a few years. Tommie-Jet has resolved he won't let himself get boxed this time and promises he'll even the score with Kemp.

Smith is the defending 440 champion, having run a fine 46.2, but that was made on a larger track than the conventional 11-laps-to-the-mile course such as San Diego's.

San Diego State's classy Bruce Hafer is also in the 440 field, and it will be interesting to see how he fares in such high-class company.

Tickets for the meet are available at the Sports Arena and outlets over San Diego county.

Whitey Coming Back To Padres

Longtime Padre favorite Whitey Wietelmann will return next season as coach and chief assistant to Bob Skinner, it was announced jointly this week by the San Diego Padres and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Wietelmann replaces Ray Rippelmeyer who has moved to the Phillies as minor league pitching coach with their organization.

Wietelmann, equally a favorite with the fans as Rippelmeyer, returns to San Diego after spending two seasons with the Cincinnati Reds as a coach. The 48-year-old Wietelmann who makes San Diego his home, played for the Padres from 1949 through 1952 then returned as a coach from 1959 through 1965.

The opening date for the 1968 Winter Olympics is Feb. 6 in Grenoble, France, with U. S. figure skater Peggy Fleming, world champion for the last two years, favored to win the women's gold medal.

All proceeds, including the club members' usual fees, will be turned over to the U. S. Olympic Fund. The event is sanctioned by the U. S. Figure Skating Association with which the local club is affiliated.

Ice Skaters To Benefit Olympic Fund Tomorrow

Sports fans are invited to skate with the San Diego Figure Skating Club for the benefit of the U.S. Olympic Fund tomorrow from 5:45 to 8:15 p.m. at Mission Valley Ice Arena.

On that night the club's usually private weekly session will be opened to the public for a minimum one dollar donation. This will include the use of skates, if needed, and a souvenir Olympic emblem, pin or decal furnished by the U. S. Olympic Fund committee.

A special feature of the evening will be exhibitions at 6:30 and 7:30 by trophy winners from the club's annual competition last October.

All proceeds, including the club members' usual fees, will be turned over to the U. S. Olympic Fund. The event is sanctioned by the U. S. Figure Skating Association with which the local club is affiliated.

Enough Money Already Taken In Seal Drive

The record breaking 60th Annual Christmas Seal Campaign already has been exceeded by the 61st — with nine weeks remaining until it closes on March 31 — according to Dr. Daniel T. Brumfield, Pacific Beach area chairman of the Tuberculosis & Health Assn. of San Diego County.

Christmas Seal contributions finance the fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases at local, state, and national levels.

The 60th campaign raised $173,396 in the county, but today the current campaign stands $5,811 ahead. The 60th campaign scored a gain of $21,436 over the previous year.

"The farther we go ahead, the more effective we'll be able to make our work in case finding, public and professional education, research, and patient rehabilitation," Dr. Brumfield said.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

Reader's Views

I was one of a group of 16 white citizens who took a visual tour of our city offices, Jan. 19.

As members of a dialogue group, meeting weekly in the Community Congregational Church of Pacific Beach, we went to observe the proportion of minority people employed by the city.

We were very much disappointed!

We were repeatedly assured, by someone speaking for the department, that under the State's Fair Employment Practices Act, jobs were offered to the top three applicant on a list—that one did not know if he or she might be Negro, Mexican-American or Oriental until visually interviewed.

This raised doubt in my mind! San Diego is said to have a Negro population of above-average intellectual calibre because our local industries require this. Yet it is a well-known fact that well-educated Negroes have not been able to get positions for which they were qualified. Too many are still relegated to traditional menial jobs. Certainly this discourages ambitious minority members from making the effort they must to get an education.

Because of the crucial racial situation something more fair and conscientious must be done!

What do you suggest?
Sincerely concerned
Louise Burgess
(Mrs. Gerald H.)

Town Talk

BY MARY FISHEL

A PINT . . . a pound the world around . . . most of the time, that is, except one evening last week at the home of Steve Morgan in Pacific Beach. Steve and Peggy Scarborough tossed a bridal shower honoring Judy Frances Rohlf of Point Loma. The guests were invited to bring "a pound of something" . . . a "pint of something" or a "can for the gourmet shelf."

Judy exchanged vows Saturday at All Souls Episcopal Church in Point Loma with Charles Barton Scarborough, Peggy's brother. Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Rohlf of Point Loma and Charles is the son of Lt. Comdr. Charles N. Scarborough, USN, ret., and Mrs. Scarborough of China Lake. Party host, Steve, was an usher at the wedding.

Beautiful gifts of linen were presented to Judy at a shower given by Louise Coder and Vicki Jackson of La Mesa. Kitchen gadgets were showered on Judy at a party at the home of Mrs. James Lyons in Point Loma.

Judy's parents gave a luncheon honoring the bridesmaids and their mothers at their home in Point Loma. Among those attending were Louise Coder and Mrs. Harrison Coder, Vicki Jackson and Mrs. John J. Jackson, Mrs. James Lyons, Mrs. Louis W. H. Heynen, Mrs. Dennis Booth, Mrs. Frances Buehler, Peggy Scarborough, and Mrs. Charles Scarborough.

The Scarboroughs, parents of the bridegroom, arrived Thursday from China Lake with their son Scott and hosted the rehearsal dinner and cocktail party Friday night at the Admiral Kidd Club. Dr. James Rohlf, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Rohlf and their two daughters, Kathy and Karen, came from Lawrence, Kansas, for the rehearsal dinner and wedding.

The reception following the wedding Saturday was held for more than 225 guests in the Mission Bay Room at the Bahia. LEARN TO MEET PEOPLE

LEARN THE VALUE OF A DOLLAR

The Sentinel needs young businessmen from 10 to 12 1/2 years of age, to bring this community paper to you and your neighbors.

From this first business experience these youngsters learn invaluable lessons that help them in the future.

We of the Sentinel, work closely with these youngsters and you, their parents. We too are parents, therefore we make sure that the problems faced by these youngsters are not beyond their abilities, particularly with our help and your help.

If you have a youngster in this age bracket, call the circulation department of this paper, BR 43212, and let us discuss our carrier program with you and your youngster.

PAINLESS—Rebecca Brooks, eighth grader at Hale Junior High School and daughter of Chief Hospital Corpsman and Mrs. Thomas H. Brooks, 5962 Charing St., receives tuberculin skin test from Mrs. Kirkham W. Campbell, a public health nurse with the Tuberculosis and Health Assn. of San Diego County. In a county-wide program, the Christmas Seal agency is offering tests to about 25,000 children of eighth grade age. The virtually painless procedure, in which test material is placed in upper layers of the skin of the forearm, does not prove existence of active tuberculosis, but it does indicate there has been exposure to the disease and it should be followed by chest X-rays and other tests by private physicians.

Sgt. Michael L. Borecky, of
San Diego, received the Navy
Commendation Medal with Combat "V" during parade and review at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot Jan. 19.

Maj. Gen. Lowell E. Eng-

The award was presented for meritorious service as an Reconnaissance Company, 1st

Marine Division, in connection with operations against Viet Cong forces from February 4, 1966 to August 6, 1967.

While participating in over 60 long-range reconnaissance patrols deep in enemy controlled territory, his aggressive fighting spirit and exceptional knowledge of reconnaissance techniques were an inspiration to his men and greatly enhanced the com-

SAN DIEGO AD HOC COMMITTEE TO STOP THE VIETNAM WAR

To the San Diego City Council:
We, the undersigned, registered voters of the City of San Diego, hereby present this petition to the Council of the City of San Diego, California, and ask that the following resolution be submitted to the qualified electors of the City of San Diego for their approval on the June 4th Primary Ballot.

RESOLUTION
WHEREAS, the United States involvement in Vietnam has only brought greater and greater bloodshed, bombing and burning to a little nation.

WHEREAS, over 16,000 American boys have been killed, over 100,000 have been wounded, and many uncounted hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese have also been killed, burned and buried.

WHEREAS, many more hundreds of thousands will be sacrificed on this alter of war as it grows larger and larger with severe threats of a third World War.

WHEREAS, Our involvement in this Vietnamese civil war has already cost us over 25 BILLION dollars last year alone while both the costs in lives and tax dollars spiral higher and higher every day.

WHEREAS, American resources are being used to bomb, burn, and bury in Vietnam while those resources are needed to feed the hungry, clothe the poor, shelter the homeless, tend the sick, of our land and many other lands.

WHEREAS, United States presence in Vietnam and its use of its great military might to rain down fire and death upon a little nation has been questioned and rebuked by its own concerned citizens, its thoughtful statesmen, and its retired military leaders.

WHEREAS, continued pursuit of the Johnson Administration's Vietnam policy can only lead to greater and greater destruction of the United States moral character and its world reputation as a nation for peace and freedom.

THEREFORE, be it resolved that:
We, the people of San Diego, believe that the WAR IN VIETNAM SHOULD NOT BE ENLARGED, BUT SHOULD BE STOPPED NOW with an immediate cease fire and a programmed withdrawal of United States military might from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can solve their problems and bring peace to their country.

City Colleges Offer Machine Shorthand Crs

San Diego City and Evening Colleges will offer a course in Machine Shorthand for the spring semester, commencing February 5.

The course is designed to prepare students in Touch Shorthand for positions as general, medical, or legal secretaries. According to Ronald K. Mucaney, Coordinator of Business Education for the San Diego Junior Colleges, proficiency in use of the machines can result in speeds considerably in excess of those generally attained with manual shorthand.

The demand for qualified secretaries with special training and skills in machine shorthand is continuous and universal, Mr. Mucaney added.

Classes will meet at City College from 11 to 11:50 a.m. Mondays through Fridays. Evening College will offer the course on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on the City College campus.

Stenograph machines are provided for student use as a part of the course. Students may file applications for enrollment through February 2, 1968, at the City College campus, Fourteenth Avenue at "A" St.

So live that when your final summons comes you can produce some well-balanced books.

JEOPARDY

Don't think you're having such a hard time—suppose you were a New Year's resolution?

EDUCATED LITTER—A salaried student worker is shown picking up the daily litter Mesa College students leave after lunch. Sometimes as many as three workers are used. David Estes, who is pictured, said that Thursday's litter was a "light day" and he could pick most of it up in an hour-and-a-half. More than 20 litter barrels can be seen from where he is standing. Some are only a few feet away, but none are full.

Review Rezoning

City Councilmen will review a requested rezoning at the southwest corner of Balboa Avenue and Mt. Albertine Avenue today.

The applicants have requested restricted professional zoning for the 24,775 square foot lot. It is now zoned for apartment development.

The Planning Commission voted 5-1 to deny the request at a hearing Dec. 27. The Planning Department also opposed the zone change.

Mexican's Art Has Prominent Exhibition

Works by the famous Mexican artist Raul Anguiano will be on exhibit at the Galerías Villacaliente in front of the Country Club Hotel, across from the Caliente Race Track in Tijuana from Sunday through Saturday, Feb. 24.

Recipient of many international awards for his contributions in the field of art and the subject of great praise from internationally recognized art critics, Anguiano is currently being discussed in the art world as a result of the variety of styles and skills revealed in the three murals he has executed for Mexico City's new Museum of Anthropology.

Born just outside of Guadalajara in 1915, Anguiano began his studies in art at 15 and had his first one-man show in Mexico City at the age of 21 in the Palace of Fine Arts.

Subsequently he has traveled extensively and has had numerous one-man shows including two exhibitions in Paris.

The art critic Jean Cassou of Paris has praised Anguiano as "a master of exact and pure art forms—placed in space with clarity and justice and a plenitude of nobility."

The group of works by Anguiano to be shown at the Galerías Villacaliente is small but contains samples of his oils, multi-colored charcoals; watercolors, sanguines and oil on fiberboard.

A majority are portraits, not too realistic, of young Indian women, the favored type being Tehuanas or other Southern Mexicans whose almond eyes and Oriental features suggest some prehistoric migration from across the Pacific, a theory eloquently upheld by Anguiano's friend, the late Miguel Covarrubias.

Also on exhibition at the Galerías Villacaliente during this show will be a wide variety of fine oils, lithographs and drawings by outstanding Mexican artists such as Dr. Atl, Diego Rivera, Pescina, Dosamantes, Siquieros. The Galerías Villacaliente is open 10 a.m.-6 p.m. seven days a week.

Kooky Joy Makes Hay With Micros

By BOB WARNER

"I'll just sit and wiggle," she smiled, when admonished that display of her dress would not be permitted for her appearance on the Bob Dale TV Show, "and I'll keep my mink on."

Kooky Joy Wilkerson, queen of the DMZ in Vietnam, is more than "sit'n'wiggle" who mentally designs her own wild attire.

Happily, she has her own individuality, though reminding one of a piece of raw material sheared from the similar stock of a Jayne Mansfield or a Judy Holliday.

She comes on in a "dumb and kooky" manner, lest it be forgotten she spent nearly two years at UCLA in theater, arts, language, and psychology. She went to high school here in San Diego.

Buzzing into San Diego last week, she visited the wounded servicemen from Vietnam at Naval Hospital. "I do admire their courage and attitude and sacrifices—they're wonderful men," she says, pausing as though recalling her memorable tour over there nearly a year ago.

"I enjoy all this," she interjects. "Ever since 'Uncle Danny' Thomas put me in show business, I've been on the run." She laughed, humorously adding, "A producer will chase me, and a director resents me."

Joy changes her level quickly, for her reactions to human behavior are acute. "I was in the Annual Christmas show at the Long Beach Veterans hospital with Buddy Rogers and the Young Americans, in addition to joining the Beverly Hillbillies and the Bonanza cast at the Blind Children Foundation in Inglewood."

She moved in fast company while serving as Queen of the Ninth Annual Grand Prix Motorcycle Races at Hope town, which will be viewed on the Wide World of Sports.

In mid-December, she was Queen at the Rex Mays International Car Races at Riverside. She repeated honors at the Riverside Stock Car Races.

Aside from this, she has been selected as a beauty contest judge this week in Fontana.

"Even in Hollywood," she relates, "I'm pressed for time. I carry three and four changes of clothes in my car to appropriately meet business and social affair activity, frequently dropping into any cleaners for a quick press."

To meet the challenges of show-business, Joy Wilkerson readily admits she has a long way to go, humorously reacting, "In the show-what business I'm not in the big-time, but somebody will know about me—I've got plenty of bounce to go with the wiggle."

The Washington D.C. files have as thorough a check on me as those cars entered in the Riverside races!"

Grateful for her experiences on the shows of Bop Hope, Johnny Carson, Red Skelton, Jonathan Winters, and Chrysler Theater, she has not sidetracked the TV medium. An approach has been made to her for a possible appearance on the Joey Bishop show.

"But the real-life show cannot be forgotten," she reminds. "When two boys from Belgium, Joel Roberts and Roger Decoster, won their races at the Hopetown Motorcycle Grand Prix and mentioned they would toss their trophies aside if they could take me back to Belgium—well, it seems the real-life show isn't second-best yet!"

Urban League Leader Speaks

Living and working conditions of minority races in urban areas will be discussed tomorrow morning at an open meeting of the North Shores PTA Council at Kate Sessions School.

The speaker will be John W. Johnson, executive director of the San Diego Urban League, announced President Mrs. Dan Stitzel. Coffee will be served at 9:30 a.m. followed by the meeting at 10 a.m.

Herbert Hails Expensive Art, Calls It 'Fortunately The Best'

Walter Herbert, who literally brings a world of experience to his opera baton technique, will conduct the locally produced operas of the 1968 San Diego Opera Spring Season at the San Diego Civic Theatre, according to Mike Fitzgerald, public relations man.

Beginning with "Carmen" March 14 and 16, continuing April 4 and 5 with the American National Opera production of "The Rake's Progress," the spring season will conclude with "The Magic Flute" May 2-4, Fitzgerald said.

Herbert, who conducted the premiere San Diego Opera production of "La Boheme" for the young company's inauguration of the San Diego Civic Theatre in May, 1965, has been principal conductor of all the operas produced by the company since it was formed.

Herbert is, in addition to being conductor and artistic director of the San Diego Opera, general director and conductor of the Houston Grand Opera. He commutes between the two cities regularly.

Herbert's American premiere of the new German opera "The Young Lord," in San Diego last February, was hailed as a brilliant success all over the country and even around the world, according to Fitzgerald.

A native of Frankfurt, Germany, Herbert studied with Arnold Schoenberg in Vienna, was director of the Vienna Volks Oper and performed as guest conductor in Berlin, Budapest, Paris, Warsaw, Moscow, Tokyo, Italy, Egypt and Canada before coming to the United States at the beginning of World War II.

His American conducting experience began in San Francisco where he conducted opera and was a viola player in the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

In 1943 he went to New Orleans to revive the oldest opera company in the United States. The New Orleans Opera had been dormant for 24 years. Herbert restored its former position of eminence and served as its general director and conductor for eleven years.

Last fall, when the New Orleans Opera celebrated the 25th anniversary of its new lease on life, Herbert was invited to a performance of "Faust" with Dorothy Kirsten and Jerome Hines in the leading roles.

Expensive The president of the New Orleans Opera Association appeared on stage between acts and called for Maestro Herbert to take a bow from his box as the honored guest of the evening, the "founding force" of the new New Orleans Opera Company.

Herbert is generous with his abilities. He will fly halfway across the United States to help raise money for opera production, as he did last fall for the San Diego Opera's Black and White Ball.

"Opera is the most expensive of all the performing arts," says Herbert. "Since fortunately it is also the best, one doesn't mind working harder to make it possible."

Ask The Principal

By Dr. Norman E. Wollitz

You stated in past columns that additional state aid was provided to local school districts late in the Legislative session. Did this have any effect on taxes in San Diego.

Yes. The total tax rate of the San Diego School District was reduced by 42 cents or 19.4% last year. This was due in large to the increased state aid which was reflected in a lower tax rate.

Property owners in San Diego have a lower combined tax rate this year than all but one of California's ten largest cities. This was reported recently by the San Diego Taxpayers Association.

The combined tax rate for all services in San Diego is now $8.41 per $100 of assessed value. Last year the city was 9.3% below the average of the ten major cities in California.

The above information is especially interesting when one recognizes that a very large percentage of land in San Diego is not taxable since it is either owned or leased by the Federal Government. Also that we are a young growing community.

As has been stated previously, members of the state legislature should be commended for the progress they have made in relieving the tax load on local taxpayers.

This of course means that if we want to maintain and improve the services provided through our schools and other agencies of the city, funds will need to be provided from state or federal sources.

One property owner told me recently that his taxes had been reduced $100 this year.

I remember a local business man talking to a sixth grade class about the privilege he had of paying taxes in order that he could help provide schools so that the students could learn to be more effective citizens and later become taxpayers and help provide services for other young people.

I wonder how many business men might want to go to their school and "ask the principal" if he could help by telling the story of the privilege he has of paying taxes to provide services for the community and especially to provide good schools so students can later become more effective consumers and producers.

Quality Control Meeting

Col. F. D. R. Sparrevoth, USAF, will speak to the San Diego Section of the American Society for Quality Control (ASQC), Feb. 12 at a dinner meeting in the Bronze Room, La Mesa.

Col. Sparrevoth will discuss the progress made by the DCAS quality assurance organization during the last two years.

He will highlight such subjects as Quality of Contracts versus Quality of Product, Project Ratios, Alternative Procedures and a system of indices for the measurement of quality effort by both government and contractor.

Col. Sparrevoth's Air Force experience includes combat service flying heavy bombers and air rescue service as a helicopter pilot in Alaska. He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with Three Clusters, Soldier's Medal and Purple Heart.

Today, Col. Sparrevoth is the Director, Quality Assurance, Defense Contract Administration Services Region (DCASR) in Los Angeles.

'Future' Talk Scheduled By JC People

A meeting to discuss future junior college building construction will be held by the San Diego County Junior College Assn. tomorrow at San Diego Mesa College.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Room B104, according to Robert F. Heilbron, Mesa president.

Along with construction the association will plan for a state bond issue which will be held this year. The bond will aid junior college construction.

Attending the meeting will be college administrators, faculty, boards of education and citizens groups.
